

FOOD- FACTS

Apple is made of 25%
air, that is why they float

Apples, onions,
and potatoes
all have the same taste? Try the test: Pinch
your nose and take a bite out of each

Birds eat half of their own body weight in food each day!

Chilli heat is measured in Scoville units, named after the pharmacist Thomas Scoville

Cabbage is 91% water

Honey is the only edible food for humans that will never go bad

Coffee is the most recognized smell in the world

Peanuts are one of the ingredients in dynamite

Yelling for 8 years, 7 months and 6 days produces enough sound energy to heat one cup of coffee

India is rightly called the Land of Spices. No country in the world produces as many varieties of spices as India.

Staple ingredients of Indian cuisine like potato, tomato and chilli don't have Indian origin. They were brought to India by the Portuguese.

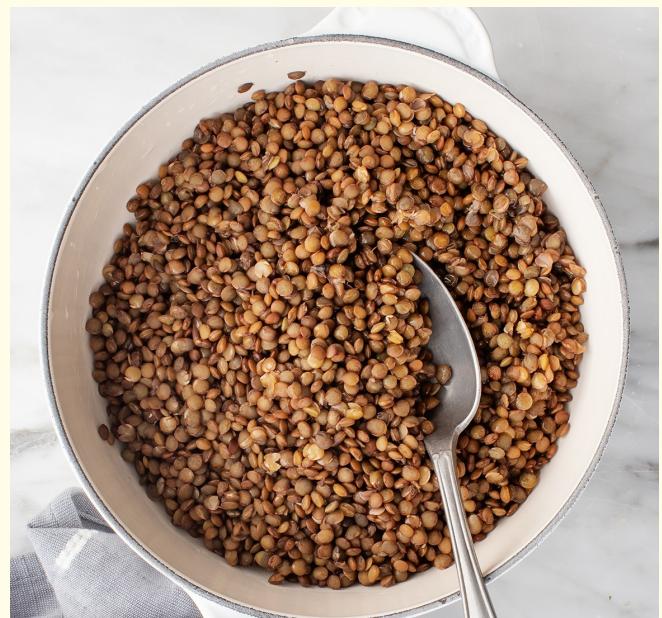

Pepper is known as the king of spices because it goes well with everything.

The first Indian restaurant in the USA was opened in the mid 1960s.

Today, there are around 80,000 Indian restaurants in America.

Present-day staple foods such as lentils, whole-wheat flour, rice, and pearl millet are found to have been part of the Indian diet from around 6,000 B.C.E.

Coffee was not known to India before 16th century and was popularized by the British.

Almost all the South Indian dishes are prepared with Rice as the base ingredient.

